When the blood becomes disordered by the poisonous and acid humors of disease, the joints and muscles of the body are frequently the medium by which this condition of the system is made known. The sufferer from rheumatism and neuralgia will gladly learn that Allopurinol, the new specific, goes to the seat of disease. Drives these foreign substances from the blood, and puts an end to pain. Less than one bottle effected a cure in the case of Mr. Wm. P. Cowan, of Trenton, Mo.

THEY WIN AGAIN.

Brett and Devore Victorious at the Omaha Tournament.

The State Foremen's tournament closed at Omaha on Saturday with a free-for-all horse race, for a purse of $400, and a coupling contest between Brett and Devore, of Decatur, the champions of the world, and Webb and Steel, of Omaha, for $150 a side. The coupling contest was very close, being won by Brett and Devore in 52.5 seconds, the losers being 3.5 of a second behind. The men ran fifty feet and made a flying coupling.

The horse race had five entries, and was won by the Vaughans, of Council Bluffs, in 42.4 seconds, Thurstone, of Omaha, 41 seconds. The race consisted in running 300 yards, laying 100 yards of hose, and making couplings. Brett and Devore were the couplers for the Vaughans, and the trainer was Charley Winebrenner, assisted by his brother Frank, both of Decatur. The Thurstone, of Omaha, kicked hard, and the judges having reported that the winning team did not comply with the rules, the Board of Control was in session twelve hours considering the matter, finally deciding in favor of the Vaughans.

This is perhaps the greatest victory Brett and Devore have ever achieved, as they certainly struck worthy competitors, and they bring more fame to Decatur, the home of the champion couplers of the world. Sunday morning Will L. Ferguson received a telegram from George Brett dated at Omaha. It reads as follows: "Won coupling and free for all horse race."

It will be a Hammer. The Blaine and Logan Campaign Glee Club, now being formed, will embrace about a dozen trained voices, and it will furnish stirring campaign music at the meetings to be held in Decatur and in the county. The club is practicing all the songs that are out.

A Cutting Reply. Saturday last a well known Republican citizen borrowed a small auger to make some improvement at his store. He was passing along the street with the auger in his hand, when he was accosted by an equally well known Democrat, who, noting the auger, asked the merchant if he was going to bore somebody. The reply came quick as a flash. "Yes," said the Republican, "I'm going to make a Democratic speech." The young Democrat tumbled to the pointed reply, and dodged into the nearest store to recover from the shock.

Criminal Matters. This forenoon the case of the People vs. Oliver Kuehn and Scott Williams, arrested on complaint of Joseph F. Wooters, on a charge of highway robbery, came up before Justice Corley. The People were represented by State's Attorney John, who secured a continuance until 9 a. m. August 14th. Wooters is not in the city at present.

In the same court Patrick Haffey, charged with assault to kill Hugh Murphy, appeared ready for trial. The case was dismissed by the Justice, as the matter had come up several times and had been continued because of the non-appearance of Murphy.

Two alleged confidence men were arrested Saturday evening by Officer Welty and Detective Imboden, who lodged them in jail. They will be given a chance to explain their conduct.

Two of the young men are first voters, whose fathers have always voted the Democratic ticket.

The services of the Young Men's Christian Association yesterday afternoon were delightful and well attended. The part and interest borne in the services and work of the association by young men is great, and should be, for it is work by young men for young men, and this is the place where they are developed as Christian workers. Young men are cordially invited to their own services, which takes place every Tuesday evening in the rooms.

Not a particle of cholera or any other deleterious substance enters into the composition of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. On the contrary, they prove of special service to those who have used cholera and other malarious poisons, medicines, and feel their vigorous effects. In such cases Ayer's Pills are invaluable.

There will be an adjourned meeting of the Y. M. C. A. board of directors this evening at 8 o'clock. All members please take notice.

Dangerous Conduct.

Capt. Allen and Mr. Brunow, who reside on the hill beyond the Sangamon river and east of the county bridge, complain of the rowdyish conduct of a party of boys and young men who spend a considerable portion of their time boating on the river near the big bend. They come to the river with guns and pistols, and when they are not boating and bowling, they get out on the banks and commence firing at targets on trees. Many of the bullets go wild and speed over the bottoms in great danger of killing stock. The other day Mr. Brunow came near being killed by a stray bullet which went whizzing near his head. On Sunday the gang was there again and carried on like a lot of roughs—so says Mr. Brunow. He tried to stop the firing, and succeeded in driving the party away, but they returned soon and continued the shooting. Capt. Allen will call in the aid of the officers to put a stop to the firing if it is repeated.

Accidentally Killed.

The funeral of Henry Stiltz, the eleven year old boy, who was accidentally killed by the cars near the coal shaft Saturday evening, took place Sunday afternoon and was conducted by Rev. H. W. Trueblood. The boy had been in the habit of getting on moving trains, and he succeeded in getting aboard the I. B. & W. freight train. He got on top of the train and had started to climb down, when he fell between two cars. Both of his legs were cut off near the knees. The members were also dislocated at the hip joints. He was removed to the residence of his mother, Mrs. Leah Green. He died at eleven o'clock. Dr. L. Meese attended the boy and gave him all possible relief in his last hours. Sunday forenoon Coroner Bendure held an inquest. A verdict of accidental death was returned. The fate of this boy should be a timely warning to all other boys in the city who are in the habit of jumping on moving trains.

Superintendent Wallace Speaks. In his harangue Saturday night Mr. Buckingham made an attack on the management of the Decatur coal shaft, of which Mr. A. J. Wallace, a leading Democrat, is superintendent. Mr. Wallace was not present at the meeting. He has been seen by a reporter, to whom he stated that he had heard of the attack. Mr. Wallace said in substance: "Buckingham did a mean thing in saying what he did, and had I been present I would have very speedily corrected his false statement. He should not attack any Decatur or other institution until he has informed himself as to the facts in the case, and I intend to have him correct his statement about the Decatur mine. The fact of the matter is, Buck didn't know or care what he was talking about. When he said we got $2.00 a ton for coal he was in error, for at no time have we received more than $1.75 a ton at the shaft. Evidently Mr. Wallace took but at what the great bamboozler said, and there is every prospect for some plain talk when the two men meet."

General Oglesby, who was in the city a short time on Saturday, left for Deal Beach, New Jersey, to remain a few weeks. On his return he will be in good time to take the stump. He will make a thorough canvass of the State, and make it lively for the Democrats.

Death. Mrs. Clara, wife of Charles Niedermeier, aged 21 years, died of lung fever at Bloomington on Saturday. The funeral took place this afternoon, and was attended by William Niedermeier and his sisters, Misses Carrie and Mary, of Decatur. The deceased was a lady native in church and other good works in Bloomington. She was the organist of the German Methodist church at that place. She leaves no children. The bereaved husband is a son of Rev. F. W. Niedermeier, of this city.

The Bloomington Post-Intelligencer of today contains the following reference to the deceased: "Mrs. Clara I. Niedermeier, wife of the well known groceryman, Mr. Charles Niedermeier, died Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock at her home, 509 West Front street. Mrs. Niedermeier, formerly Clara I. Freese, was born Nov. 3, 1861, and married to her now bereaved husband in 1881. She was a lady of an estimable character, an earnest Sunday school worker, and was universally beloved by all who bore her acquaintance."

Stranger than Fiction. Are the records of some of the cures of consumption elected by that most wonderful remedy—Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Thousands of grateful men and women, who have been snatched almost from the very jaws of death, can testify that consumption, in its early stages, is no longer incurable. The Discovery has no equal as a pectoral and alterative, and the most obstinate affections of the throat and lungs yield to its power. All druggists.

"The Jimmyvatio Club."

Saturday evening the Democrats, following in the wake of the Republicans as usual, held a meeting at the court house and organized a campaign club. B. K. Durfee and other bosses of the party stood discreetly in the background, and after the younger element had been sufficiently drilled and groomed, as popped Will Snyder, of the Decatur Herald, late of Moultrie county, who called the meeting to order and made his maiden speech, in defining the objects of the gathering. It was a rattling speech for his side of the house. Wilson Bering was elected temporary chairman, and Charley Wagonseller, of the Review, was elected secretary. On motion, the chairman appointed a committee on permanent organization. It was decided that the officers of the club should consist of a president, 5 vice presidents, a secretary and treasurer. The business having been disposed of, the "old heads" came to the front to do the talking. The first speaker was Isaac A. Buckingham, who delivered the same old speech, raising the cry of "reform" and "give us a change," same as did John Eden the other night. "Buck" floundered about awkwardly for some time, but when he knuckled down to keeping abuse on the republicans and making personal attacks on Decatur institutions and people, he struck his gait and kept it up till he noticed many leaving the room and then he quit. He tried hard to bamboozle the laboring men, but he had nothing to say of the absence of an acceptable labor plank in the platform of the Democratic party, and in his talk gave them no promise of bettering their condition. Buck thinks he can make a good speech—it's true he has some pumpkins on brow beating a jury or a tardy debtor—but he's no good as a campaign speaker. He offers no arguments or statements to set voters to thinking. His forte is to say things to create momentary applause and exalt himself.

Next came O. C. Clark who delivered a rambling talk.

It was announced that over 100 signatures to the club roll had been secured, but they were not obtained at the meeting. For weeks skirmishes have been going on at the city taking down names. The Hiberman band was thanked for its music, and the meeting adjourned. In the crowd were noticed many republicans, and also several leaders of the prohibition party, who deferred their St. John ratification until next Saturday night, so they could attend the meeting of the party with which numbers of them will vote next fall.

Why the Democrats Can Never Win. Chicago Times, Nov. 1890.

The recent Presidential election has shown that there is an invincible reason why the Democratic party can never win a National victory. It is that the youth of this Republic are not Democratic. Sons of Democratic fathers have grown up Republicans. So long as slavery and the war linger within the memory of Americans, the youth of the Republic will continue to grow up Republicans, and slavery and the war will be remembered as long as the public school system exists. The public schools have slain the Democratic party with the text books.

Lightning's Work. During the heavy storm last Saturday evening there was one flash of lightning which paid its respects to the city water works, south of town. The east brick smoke stack was struck and split slightly from the top down about 20 feet. For a distance of 10 feet from the top the break is an inch wide. If the inside lining is not shattered no immediate repairs will be required. No other damage resulted.

Saturday evening last, a little east of the city, during the rain, lightning struck the windmill of S. C. Allen, tearing away a portion of the shingles of the well house and demolishing a horse collar which was hanging up inside. Two of his sons and some harvest hands who had taken refuge in the shed of the barn were considerably shocked at the time, but not seriously injured.

The Late A. G. Harris. The mortal remains of the late Albert G. Harris were laid in the grave at Macon on Saturday. The funeral ceremonies were held at the Presbyterian church at that place, and were conducted by Rev. W. H. Presley, of Decatur, assisted by Rev. Joel K. Conely, the pastor, and Rev. Mr. Mitchell, of Macon county. The church choir furnished appropriate music for the occasion. The memorial adopted by the Macon County Bar at its meeting in Decatur was read in the church, which was filled with visitors and the sympathy of friends at Macon. The pallbearers were members of the Decatur bar.

THE MEMORIAL. The committee, Messrs. J. A. Barkus, Isaac David Hinkson, and A. H. Mills made their report on Saturday to the Macon county bar, and presented the following memorial which was adopted.

We, the members of the Macon county bar, have with our united voices heard of the untimely demise of our brother, Albert G. Harris.

He was a young man of more than literary powers of mind and qualities of heart. He had but briefly entered the realm of man's existence, and he left behind him a pathway of life which, growing weary and worn with its brief life, has left a path for the way. His loss has been a cut above a career that had many prospects and promises of a bright and useful future.

Mr. Harris from the time of his admission as a lawyer until April 1894, was a member of the Macon county bar, and by his gentlemanly demeanor won the respect of his brethren in this chosen circle. His nature was earnest, generous and liberal in his profession, earnest, zealous and able to do for a small true and pure principle, who repaid his duty and untimely death.

In the family of Mr. Harris we extend our most sincere and sympathetic in their parting, and assure them that while their loss of a bright and promising young man and his family is a great loss, it is a loss that is not less genuine and sincere at the loss of a true companion and brother.
